

March to September 2013

TOTAL and KIDOVA are codirecting two internships with topics related to naturally fractured reservoirs: Arthur Torrin (Ecole des Mines de Nancy) works on the quantification and correction of statistical biases resulting from fracture data available from wells, Axelle Pochet (Ecole de Géologie de Nancy) works on 3D DFN simulation to introduce new types of geological and structural complexities and new types of conditioning data in simulation algorithms.

